

Authors' Profiles

Ken Bechtel is Intentional Interim Pastor with Mennonite Church Canada currently finishing a term at Nutana Park Mennonite Church in Saskatoon, Saskatchewan.

Wesely Berg is Professor Emeritus in music at the University of Alberta, Edmonton.

John Derksen is Associate Professor of Conflict Resolution Studies at Menno Simons College, Winnipeg and resides in Winnipeg.

Abe J. Dueck is Academic Dean Emeritus, Canadian Mennonite University, and resides in Winnipeg.

Leonard Doell is the Aboriginal Neighbours Co-ordinator for MCC Saskatchewan and resides in Aberdeen, Saskatchewan.

Paul Doerksen is a recent doctoral graduate at McMaster University and teaches at Canadian Mennonite University and the Mennonite Brethren Collegiate Institute and resides in Winnipeg.

John J. Friesen is Professor Emeritus in history and theology at Canadian Mennonite University, Winnipeg.

Lauren Friesen is Professor of Theatre and Chair of the Department of Theatre and Dance at the University of Michigan-Flint.

Brian Froese is Assistant Professor of History at the Canadian Mennonite University, Winnipeg.

Edna Froese is Continuing Sessional Faculty in English, St. Thomas More College, University of Saskatchewan, Saskatoon, Saskatchewan.

Donovan Giesbrecht is a student in the Faculty of Education, University of Winnipeg, and a resident of Winnipeg;

Lesely Glendining is a doctoral student in English Literature at the University of Manitoba and resides in Douglas, Manitoba.

Laureen Harder is Librarian, Mennonite & Brethren in Christ Resource Centre, Waterloo, Ontario.

Daniel Hildebrand is a senior undergraduate student, majoring in history, at the University of Winnipeg and resides in Winnipeg.

Gerlof D. Homan is Professor of History, Emeritus, Illinois State University and resides in Normal, Illinois.

Ann Hostetler is a Professor of English and English Department Chair at Goshen College, Indiana.

James C. Juhnke is Professor Emeritus in history at Bethel College, North Newton, Kansas.

Benjamin Lefebvre is Assistant Professor of English at The University of Winnipeg and a Research Associate at the Centre for Research in Young People's Texts and Cultures.

Harry Loewen is Professor Emeritus and the former chair in Mennonite Studies at the University of Winnipeg, and now lives in Kelowna, British Columbia.

Tanis MacDonald teaches at Wilfrid Laurier University, Waterloo, Ontario; her edited volume, Speaking of Power: The Poetry of Di Brandt was published by WLU Press in 2006.

Lisa Martens is a member of Christian Peacemakers Team and resides in Winnipeg.

Elsie K. Neufeldt's most recent publication is as editor-in-chief of, and poetry contributor to, Half in the Sun: Anthology of Mennonite Writing (Ronsdale Press, 2006); she is a resident of Abbotsford, BC.

Leonard Neufeldt is a retired literary and cultural historian and the author of a number of books of poetry and resident of Gig Harbor, Washington.

Tom Penner teaches in the English Department at the University of Winnipeg.

James Penton is Professor Emeritus at the University of Lethbridge and resides in Burlington, Ontario.

David Purlmutter is working on a Master of Arts in Archival Studies at the University of Manitoba and resides in Winnipeg.

Ted Regehr, Professor Emeritus of history at the University of Saskatchewan, lives in Calgary and is adjunct professor of history at the University of Calgary, Alberta.

Al Reimer is Professor Emeritus of English at the University of Winnipeg and Associate Editor of Journal of Mennonite Studies.

Walter Sawasky is associate professor of church history at the Associated Mennonite Biblical Seminary in Elkhart, Indiana.

David Schroeder is Professor Emeritus at Canadian Mennonite University and resides in Winnipeg.

Sam Steiner is director of Mennonite Archives of Ontario, Waterloo ON.

Thomas Socknat is Professor of History, Woodsworth College, University of Toronto and resides in Toronto.

Conrad Stoesz is an archivist at the Centre MB Studies and the Mennonite Heritage Centre, Winnipeg, serves as the webmaster for <http://alternativeservice.ca> and resides in Winnipeg.

Janis Thiessen recently earned her doctorate in history at the University of New Brunswick and is a teacher of history and chemistry at Westgate Collegiate, Winnipeg.

Maryann Tjart Jantzen teaches English and co-directs the Writing Centre at Trinity Western University in Langley, BC.

Jacob Warkentin is retired teacher and director of the Mennonite Teacher's College in Filadelfia, Chaco, Paraguay and resides in the nearby Neuland Mennonite Colony.

J. Denny Weaver is Professor Emeritus of Religion and the Harry and Jean Yoder Scholar in Bible and Religion at Bluffton University, Bluffton, Ohio and lives in Madison, Wisconsin.

Paul Werth is associate professor in the Department of History, University of Nevada, Las Vegas.

Joe Wiebe is an aspiring novelist and freelance writer who lives in Vancouver. One of his short stories, "Sunlight + Coloured Glass," appears in Half in the Sun: Anthology of Mennonite Writing (Ronsdale Press, 2006).

Katie Funk Wiebe is the author of several books and works on Mennonite women and community and resides in Wichita, Kansas.

Thomas R. Yoder Neufeld is Professor of Theology at Conrad Grebel University College, Waterloo, Ontario.